

My Journey certificate awards

Choose the highest level fully supported by the body of evidence.

All three awards confirm successful completion of My Journey. They describe the depth and transfer of evidence, not a student's worth, diagnosis, communication method, or amount of disability support.

Award rules

- Never lower an award because the learner uses AAC, assistive technology, an accommodation, mobility support, sensory support, or a chosen supporter.
- Do not average the five evidence dimensions into one total. Match the body of evidence to every criterion at the selected award level.
- If evidence is incomplete, record the exact access repair, teaching, authentic opportunity, and reassessment plan before assigning a certificate.
- Use local moderation and learner review. Protect private evidence and obtain permission for public celebration or media.
